Marcel de Champlain named Citizen of Year

After making the announcement, Chairman Jim Oliphant asked the 1970 Citizen of the Year, Marcel de Champlain to come forward. In photo he is calling on President Ernie Jamison to present Marcel with his trophies, on behalf of the St. Albert and District Chamber of Commerce.

Citizen Citation Presented

In reporting on the Citizen of the Year award, Chamber of Commerce chairman Jim Oliphant presented the following citation before naming Marcel de Champlain as 1970 Citizen of the Year in St. Albert.

The judges have selected a man born and educated in Legal, who has lived in and around the district all his life. He moved to St. Albert 10 years ago and has volunteered his services in many ways.

He is a member of the St. Albert Volunteer Fire Department and a director of the St. Albert and District Community League for the past eight years. In many ways he is responsible for extensive modifications to the community hall, and for the success of this organization.

He is founding chairman of the St. Albert Arena Building Fund and has donated many of his hours as a board member and as a volunteer laborer to this project.

He has assisted other organizations such as the Kinsmen and the Fish and Game Association with community projects.

Even with his responsible job as town public works foreman, which takes him out at all hours of the day and night, he still finds time to drive children to provincial swim meets, and to lend a helping hand to anyone.

People at the Chamber of Commerce dinner dance did not have long to wait for the "Citizen of the Year" announcement last Friday evening. Mr. Jim Oliphant performed this happy task immediately after O Canada the blessing by Father Descheneau, and head table introductions.

Mr. Marcel de Champlain was the judges choice, and after the presentations took his place at the head table.

Happily Bill Penrose was again able to act as emcee for the evening, which is probably due more to his talents in this area, than the fact that he is the secretary-manager of the Edmonton Chamber. during the course of the dinner he introduced speakers Mayor Gibbon, MLA Keith Everitt and retiring president Ernie Jamison, all of whom were pleasingly brief in their remarks.

At the close of his remarks Keith Everitt drew hearty laughter as he presented Ernie Jamison with a handful of elastics in case he was having any trouble with his snowmobile. This was a reference to the recent Gazette cartoon, depicting Ernie as newly-nominate PC candidate as tough opposition to Keith and Liberal candidate Bob Russell, and showing the three as snowmobile racers.

Emcee Bill wandered informally through the crowd still seated at dinner tables and introduced a number of people in the audience, including Al Hickey of the Canadian and Alberta Chambers, who spoke briefly. A former mayor of Waterous Saskatchewan, Mr. Harry Cochrane, now in St. Albert, Dr. William Cuts first name on the Citizen of the Year trophy, Mr. Peter Zuidema, past president of the St. Albert Chamber and Ken Moore, husband of last year's Citizen of the Year, Lorraine Moore.

Three hours of lively dancing which had even the reluctant husbands up on the floor, concluded the evening.

Council opposes Amalgamation

Mayor Ray Gibbon had a notice of motion re amalgamation on the agenda of Monday night's council meeting.

"At a meeting of the minister of municipal affairs and various municipalities on City of Edmonton annexation, it was apparent that Minister Colbourne and senior department officials are prepared to accept the plebiscite on amalgamation held in St. Albert in February of 1969, as gospel," said the mayor.

"Further, after Premier Strom's speech at the AUMA convention in Calgary, there was indication that he was of the same opinion. I presume this may be the consensus of the entire cabinet, and in order to clarify the position of the town, I move that the town council of St. Albert go on record as being opposed to amalgamation with the City of Edmonton."

The motion carried with Councillor de Bruijn stating that he wished to be recorded as opposed.

Copies of the motion will be forwarded to the Premier, Hon. F. Colbourne, MD Sturgeon, City of Edmonton and MLA for St.

Albert constituency, Mr. Keith Everitt.

Council was informed that enough consents have now been obtained, and a resolution was passed to carry on with the Forest Lawn replot. Second appraisals have been ordered, and application to the public utilities board must be forwarded within six months.

Signing authority arrangements permitting Secretary Dan O'Connell to sign alone on Homeowners Grant Cheques were completed and many local residents will be receiving these in the mail this week.

Council meets regularly in open session on the first and third Monday of each week, and in committee on the second and fourth Monday. Ordinarily a fifth Monday is left blank, unless a special meeting is called.

Lieutenant-Governor Grant MacEwan obviously enjoying a great joke with two ladies at the Native Society membership supper and dance last Friday in the community hall. The Society is this year celebrating its 10th anniversary.

Arena Rates Debated at Council

The matter of arena rates sparked considerable, and sometimes heated discussion at the special meeting of town council Monday night.

Council had received a letter from the St. Albert Kinsmen Club protesting the rental of $3 per hour for minor hockey and some of the councillors were also of the opinion this rate was high for hockey and figure skating. When the vote was taken the rates remained as scheduled.

Under the Joint Use arrangements between the school and the town, the school will have free use of the arena, during school hours only, without rental or maintenance fee, as agreed upon November 16.

Arena rates for the 1970-71 season are: for public skating, adults 50 cents per hour, students 25 cents, and children 15 cents; $3 rental per hour for minor hockey and figure skating; $15 per hour for senior hockey and $20 per hour for outside rentals.

Letter from the Local Authorities gave council the go ahead to deal with arena management as it sees fit. The letter also expressed the board's pleasure in the town's handling of the arena project with a limited amount of debenture funds. There is a $75,000 debenture floating on the arena which was originally approved by LAB while the town still came under their jurisdiction. The project also qualified for a $36,500 grant from the department of youth for the floor.

Councillor John de Bruijn who is chairman of the arena board, reported to council that $27,500 is required to complete two more dressing rooms, warm area for concession and some bleacher work over the dressing rooms.

A canvass of the town is presently under way to assist, under the direction of Mr. Al Laplante.

Arena Canvass Captain Ed Howorko has a big smile as he accepts a cheque for $100 from Ethel Bussche, the personal donation of Joe and Ethel. Mrs. Bussche and her sister, Lois Brewster, at left, did a canvass in neighboring rural district and brought in the further sum of $631 for the arena fund. They report a warm reception at the district homes they called on. All in all the arena fund is $731 richer through the efforts of these two women.

*TREATS FOR ALL THE KIDDIES.

But if you're sixteen and Pot's your bag - a criminal record could be your tag

the Gazette REFLECTS

A sad situation in a Just society

There is something drastically wrong with the law governing trafficking in marijuana, in so far as it applies to boys and girls 16 or 17 years old.

This was clearly evident in the big round-up conducted by police in the Edmonton area in September. A number of arrests involved young policemen in plain clothes, working with youths in selected neighborhoods, according to reports of people involved.

For some reason some young men agreed to play their part. We can only hope they weren't offered a lighter charge, on trafficking charges of their own. At any rate there were incidences when youths were found who were willing to help turn in their friends to the police, according to our information.

Now it can happen that the policeman and the young man pay a call on the 16-year-old buddy of the young man. They ask if he can help them out with some hash or a joint of marijuana. Trusting his friend, the "buddy" gives them some marijuana, perhaps $3 or $4 worth. The incident takes place perhaps in June. We mention this type of arrest, because it seems particularly odious.

Some day in September the police walk in and take the boy to jail. The 16-year-old is booked on a criminal charge. And it will follow him all his life. With a criminal record certain careers will be blocked to him - certain organizations and clubs - job opportunities.

Here is a situation where a young person, for perhaps one mistake, can be branded for life. The punishment does NOT fit the crime.

At the moment many Canadians, including lawyers, legislators, drug research people and others are recommending that the sale of marijuana should be legalized and controlled. Use of this drug is extremely wide spread - and not only among teen-agers by any means. Surely these sentences under the criminal code should be held in abeyance until this decision is made.

But people 16 or 17 years old should not be given a criminal record for a sale of marijuana under any circumstances. The law should be changed.

In the meantime police need not search out this age group for this particular drug, as they carry on their commendable effort to bring the drug situation under control, facing most difficult problems.

ODE TO LORNE * THE PHILOSOPHER

Mr. Atken who will celebrate his 80th birthday Dec. 10 is in Sturgeon hospital with a bout of pneumonia at the moment. We thought his friends outside the Lions Bulletin circulation would enjoy this item:

Ode to Lorne the philosopher

It was just eighty short years ago Lorne was born in Ontario. Though his flatcloths were the best, They departed him away out West. Out to St. Albert he did come. It's said he nearly wore out his thumb.

This time, he was deported North, Where he munched his dogsled back and forth. When he returned and settled down He won respect from all the town. Lorne married the belle of this country

And raised a robust family. He joined the Lions when they started And from this Club has never parted. Now Lorne is 80 and feeling fine; Our candidate for Father Time!

Around Town

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Nemirsky entertained the girls senior volleyball team of Paul Kane High at their home last Saturday evening. The tournament held that day at Salisbury school in Sherwood Park marked the end of the season for the team, coached by Mr. Nemirsky. Judging from comments heard, Mrs. Nemirsky is no mean hand at batter-fried chicken, with great sauces, and there were rolls and pop and cake and ice cream as well. The girls sat around talking (volleyball among other matters), and enjoyed relaxing after a hard day. (They didn't win the tournament.)

Despite the weather on Monday night, 40 ladies turned out to the Christmas decoration demonstration by Mrs. Donna Crowe at the Clubhouse. The ladies were extremely interested and left with many ideas on decorating.

If you have a four-year-old boy or girl and would like to have him in the health unit's pre-school testing program just telephone the Sturgeon Health Unit at 599-6671. The program runs the year around. (See report this issue).

The regular meeting of the Lady Lions will not be held this month. Watch the Gazette for next announcement.

Many local residents will be sorry to learn that St. Albert is losing a mark of identity - the St. Albert postmark on mail posted in the town post office. Under new arrangements the mail is going unpostmarked to Edmonton, where this part of processing the mail is done.

Ten-year-old Dawn Boudreau died November 30 in the Royal Alexandra Hospital. The daughter of Mrs. Olive Boudreau, 45 Balmoral Drive, Dawn was predeceased by her father in 1961 and brother Joe, Nov. 30, 1968. Funeral arrangements are not yet completed.

Nice to notice some senior fellows from Paul Kane High enjoying quite a number of basketball work-outs at the Seminary gym. The seminary people, who are usually first in St. Albert to have their skating rink ready, also share this facility with local young people.

Seed cleaning Co-op finishes fine year

The Morinville Municipal Seed Cleaning Co-operative became the first plant ever to go over the half million bushel mark last year. Of this 450,000 bushels of cereal grain were processed through the plant.

President Allan McDonnell told the annual meeting of the co-operative on Nov. 21, that in co-operation with the Agriculture Service Board, the co-operative also handled sales of well over 150,000 pounds of grass and legume seed last spring. "We were fortunate in obtaining a larger percentage of No. 1 or better grade," he said. A small amount of No. 2 Alfalfa and Bromes was handled on a consignment basis.

Manager Bud McGillis and his staff were commended by the chairman on their high quality of workmanship in the cleaning of cereal grains and some oil seeds.

The meeting was reminded of regulations prohibiting mixing of treated grain for feed sale, and Mr. McDonnell pointed out that a few farmers may be putting newly-harvested grain on top of treated seed and hauling it to the plant for cleaning. He said that the manager has been instructed not to allow this type of grain in the plant. If the owner is caught with such a condition there is a $10 cleaning up fee. "As you can understand" he told the meeting, "screenings may have a trace of the treated grain in which case the plant would be held responsible."

Speaking of improvements to the plant since last year's annual meeting, the chairman stated a new superior machine had been recently installed at a cost of $5,000. Estimate to install sewage and water system has been obtained at approximately $1,200, plus any extra for the room which may be added to the office. Consideration is also being given to installation under the office in the basement. The addition will not be done until spring in any case.

Referring to the financial statement, Mr. McDonnell pointed out that the plant barely paid its way in the cleaning and treating of grain. "If it were not for interest received from investments and commission on handling grass and cereal seed, the plant would be in real trouble," he said. "To try and correct this operating loss, the board feels there is urgent need to raise the cleaning price by one cent per bushel from March 15 on. This is justified because the cost for overtime and bonuses come at this time," said the chairman. He also reported that five cents per bag extra will be charged for sacking. "With these increases, only costs are being met," Mr.

McDonnell said.

He reported on successful measures carried out to collect outstanding accounts and assured the meeting that the small amount left outstanding on last year's operations will be paid shortly. Also that some protection for the scale was enforced on weight limits, as no insurance is available to the truck or the scale if beams or hangers are damaged.

Twelve-year-old Joan Sheehan of Riviere Qui Barre 4-H Clothing Club, was reported winner of the Seed Cleaning Co-op trophy for the best public speaker in the 4-H competition. Mr. McDonnell also noted that the plant manager had obtained a first class permit.

"Your financial report shows a net income for the year's operations of $10,680," said the president concluding his report. "The Board suggests to shareholders, that the profit be distributed as follows: $5500 retained in the business to maintain good service. That all shareholders with more than one share receive four per cent on their share capital, to be paid immediately that the balance be declared as a patronage dividend, representing a 13 per cent refund on gross payment for cleaning and treating and handling.

A number of questions from the members present were answered by the president. One member felt that $10 was not a high enough fee for cleaning up machines after treated seed, and another was concerned with whether the plant manager was compensated for extra time he put in cleaning grain in the spring.

Accountant Rene Kam-bourff reported very fully on the financial report. He was appointed for the coming year as auditor.

A motion carried that $3,700 be paid out in patronage dividend to shareholders. District agriculturalist Wally Klatt spoke briefly, saying he enjoyed working with the board and mentioning new type rapessed.

Mr. H. W. Webber of the Co-operative Activities Branch spoke on board meetings, saying they should be held regularly, preferable once a month, and noting that directors must be elected at the annual meeting, by secret ballot. "The board has a great responsibility in looking after the affairs of the plant," stated Mr. Webber.

Archie Cameron took the chair for the election of officers, the terms of Allan McDonnell and Harold Cassidy having expired. Allan McDonnell was nominated by Rene Victor, Harold Cassidy, McDonnell and Cassidy were re-elected.

Questions relating to the plant operation were heard. Geoff Bockock reported load flax on his farm and Bill Flynn noted that it was fairly prevalent through the MD. On fence line weeds it was stated that grants are to be available for control. Further to spreading weed seed new regulations were mentioned, under which all trucks must be covered by tarp in such a way that no weed seeds can blow off in transit.

Next board meeting will be held December 9 at 2 p.m.

Vimy parish marks golden jubilee

Our Lady of Victories Vimy Parish celebrated its Golden Jubilee on Sunday, Nov. 22. Also honored at these celebrations were the Daughters of Jesus, religious order of Sisters who have been in our midst for the past 25 years.

Among the many distinguished guests we take note of the following pioneers in attendance: Mr. A. Aguin, Mr. and Mrs. Leger Huot, Mrs. Julia Morin, Mr. Jos Rivet, Mrs. A. Fortier, Mrs. Corinne Sabourin, Mrs. M. L. Coulombe, Mrs. B. St. Arnaud, Mr. and Mrs. F. Landry, Mrs. M. L. Lemieux, Mr. and Mrs. O. Chevrier, Mr. Edward Parent, Mrs. G. Blanchette, Mr. L. Pelletier, Mrs. A. Dusseault, Mrs. A. Beller, Mr. A. Bliodeau, Mr. J. Bouchard, Mr. and Mrs. H. Ethier, Mr. A. Landry and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wilson.

A mass at 4 p.m. concelebrated by His Excellency Bishop A. Gagnon, parish pastor A. Desjardins and Rev. J. Lachance former pastor for two years, marked the opening which was followed by a gathering of clergy and pioneers at the rectory. Members of the parish council, Mr. A. Blanchette, J. Dusseault and F. Bliodeau poured the wine. The ladies of the Jubilee committee distributed boutonnieres and corsages.

A reception and banquet was held in the Community Hall with some 225 guests in attendance. Master of ceremonies for the occasion was Mr. Paul St. Arnaud who called upon His Excellency ency for the blessing of the meal. President of the parish council, Mr. Albert Blanchette proposed the toast to His Holiness Pope Paul VI followed by a toast to Her Majesty the Queen by Mr. Ed. Sabourin.

After a delicious meal F. J. Lachance addressed the gathering with memories of his stay in the community. Mr. Frank Landry read the address to the Daughters of Jesus which was answered by Rev. S. G. Dupuis, provincial of the Order. Distinguished guest, Mr. R. Motut, president of the French Canadian Association of Alberta also delivered very appropriate words. Representing the pioneers was Mr. A. Bliodeau who reminisced of his 50 years in the area.

His Excellency addressed the gathering with many words of congratulations to the pioneers and best wishes for the coming generations. Anniversary cake was distributed by the Sisters and the ladies of the parish.

To terminate the festivities, an enjoyable parochial concert was presented under the capable direction of Mrs. W. Provencal. The variable program included a choir, musical selections, baton and local talent in solos, duos and trios rendering some good old-fashioned songs.

In closing, Father Desjardins thanked those who had attended and especially all the people who had made this memorable day such a success.

Gallery closes show early

Local artist Urmila Upadha-Garg, of 34 Broadview Crescent, was placed in a most embarrassing position by the inexplicable action of the Edmonton Art Gallery in removing her work from the first of their series of exhibitions called "Eye on Edmonton" four days early. The etchings and paintings were taken down without the knowledge of Mrs. Garg or the general public on November 27.

The exhibition was advertised to run until November 30.

On that evening a group of 17 friends of Mrs. Garg had planned a party in her honor which was to begin with a visit to her exhibition at the gallery. They arrived to find the exhibition removed.

When interested people pressed the Gallery for an explanation they were informed after repeated attempts to find out what happened, that a member of the gallery staff did not happen to like the work.

Aside from this unfortunate incident, Mrs. Garg reports a fine opening night and enthusiasm from many quarters for her first exhibition in Edmonton. The noted artist has held one-man shows in many many cities of the world, and her work is represented in a number of major collections.

6 Municipalities meet on garbage problems

Mayor Ray Gibbon represented the Town of St. Albert at a meeting last Friday of six area municipalities on the subject of land fill sites for garbage dumping. Representatives attended from Fort Saskatchewan, County Strathcona, County Parkland, MD Sturgeon and the City of Edmonton. Mr. Harvey Hogg from the Provincial Department of Health was a guest.

Mr. Hogg pointed out to the meeting that new regulations governing the standards of garbage dumps have been out for two and one-half years, which he felt was ample time for the municipalities to make necessary arrangements to meet them on January 1st.

However one thing that emerged from the meeting was that all municipalities face a common problem. They experience great difficulty in acquiring land for land-fill sites. There was consensus also on the need for municipalities to work together towards a solution.

Among other items, the regulations state that there must be 1500 feet between a dump site and the nearest residence.

If a quarter section of land can be found where the residences are placed only in the corner, this does not create a problem, but many sites would not be feasible when a mile and a quarter strip is needed around it. And of course good arable land is not used for land-fill sites either.

It was also brought out that in Edmonton, for every additional mile the transportation costs for dumping garbage increased by -- $25,000.

Advertising for land for dump sites by one municipality can have the effect of slowing negotiations for sites in neighboring municipalities. The normal reaction of people against allowing a dump site on their property has also to be considered with.

All the municipalities appeared to agree that they would have to work together on the problem of getting suitable sites, and that the co-operation of local people would also be needed.

All six will also have to have temporary permits to continue using existing facilities until suitable sites can be found and new regulations met.

In St. Albert Mayor Gibbon advises that the town and MD Sturgeon have been for some time been negotiating jointly for a site suitable for both and to serve the forthcoming University as well. To date is hasn't been possible to complete these negotiations.

Interviewed this week, Mayor Gibbon also commented on the sewage situation in St. Albert, where the present lagoon facility is meeting requirements of the department of health. Even for a population of 20,000 or more the lagoon could be aeriated as a temporary measure.

At present the firm of Stanley and Associates is conducting a full study of the entire sewage system and requirements for future expansion, so that council will have complete information in ample time to plan ahead for the expansion of the sewage system.

W.I. project to aid arena

Members of the Women's Institute are asking the people of the town and district to sign their special Christmas Card and give a donation. In this way you can send greetings to your friends and neighbors and do a service to your community. All proceeds from

On Saturday, December 5, the card will be on display at Safeway Store in Grande Shoppers Park, and it will also be taken to other organizations for members to sign.

A PAGE DESIGNED TO INFORM FARM READERS ON CURRENT AGRICULTURAL NEWS AND EVENTS AND TO SERVE AS A FORUM FOR EXPRESSION OF FARMERS' OPINIONS.

Proposed policy on grain receipts

Following is a brief resume of the federal government's "Proposed Policy for Production and Grain Receipts" which was tabled in the House of Commons. The proposals, designed for the prairie grain producer, are intended to give more support to the farmer during difficult marketing years and to increase efforts to develop better sales of grain and oil seeds and their products.

(1) A grain stabilization plan which would guarantee that total cash receipts for all grain farmers in each year would equal the previous five year average receipts. Included in the plan are receipts from wheat, barley, oats, rapeseed, and flax and rye.

The plan would pay to each farmer in proportion to his marketings. Payments would be made in any year when total cash farm receipts from the included crops fell below the previous five year average.

A small contribution would be made by farmers annually as check-off from delivery receipts - the balance of the necessary money would be supplied as a grant by the government.

The plan would be effective as of August 1, 1970. It is expected that a payment from government funds of over $100,000,000 would be made for this crop year.

(2) A market development program emphasizing grains and oilseeds to be funded by the government up to $10,000,000 annually.

A product research and development program is suggested as well as a program for special market promotion and development projects.

(3) A major emphasis on retaining and further expanding Canadian sales of feed grain, principally barley, in world markets. It is suggested that up to 16 million acres of barley may be a desirable target for 1971.

(4) A new quota system, based on the report of the Boden committee, which will permit delivery of only one kind of grain on any acre but allow free assignability of all cultivated acreage to any crop.

(5) A continuation of the incentive program to encourage seeding grain land to grass - up to an additional four million acres over the next three years.

(6) Continuation of government guarantees of payment by credit buyers of wheat but assumption by the pool of costs of any subsidy on interest rates for credit up to three years. Concessional terms would continue to be at government expense.

(7) A commitment to announce initial prices for wheat, oats and barley by March 1st each year.

(8) An improved information system, including announcement of probable quota levels for wheat, oats and barley by March 1st of each year.

(9) Termination of government payments for wheat storage under the Temporary Wheat Reserves Act.

(10) Recovery of losses in pool accounts for wheat, oats and barley, taken separately from future surpluses in the same pool. Losses have occurred in the past only once for wheat and barley and twice for oats.

(11) Continued government purchases of grains under the food aid program. It is estimated that purchases in the fiscal year 1970-71 will be approximately $100,000,000 in value.

If you require more information then contact the district agriculturist at Morinville.

Feed analysis way up

The number of feed samples analyzed by the Alberta department of agriculture's soil and feed testing laboratory is up 70 per cent this year compared with 1969.

Jerome Martin, animal nutritionist at the laboratory, reports that in October 437 samples were analyzed compared with 223 during the same period a year ago. He feels that the following factors have played an important role in contributing to the large increase in requests for the laboratory's feed testing services.

"More interest in feeds and feeding techniques on the part of Alberta farmers and ranchers.

"Many new livestock feeders are approaching feeding from a more scientific point of view than was the case a few years ago.

"There is a greater variety of feeds on the market today.

"The use of new crops. Farmers growing peas, for example, want them analyzed for protein content; or somebody growing buckwheat for the first time wants to know the feed value of the straw.

"More information is being provided by the news media on efficient economical livestock rations.

"More information is available on the economic results of feeding balanced

Things to learn about upholstery

By Pat Prymak
District Home Economist

How can you judge the quality of a sofa or chair when most features of its construction - the frame, webbing, springs and filling material are carefully hidden behind an inscrutable fabric covering? The first and most important rule for buying any item with hidden features is to shop in a reliable store.

YOU GET

WHAT YOU PAY FOR

Skilled workmanship is one commodity that is never sold at cut-rate prices. If the workmanship is there you have to pay for it, and if it isn't there you shouldn't buy it. Knowing some of the various steps in construction will enable you to detect certain evidences of quality, and to ask the salesman intelligent questions about parts you can't see or touch.

BEHIND THE

FABRIC COVER

FRAME: The wood frame should be of substantial lumber that has been kiln-dried (seasoned to prevent warping). It should be put together with dowels and reinforced with corner blocks.

WEBBING - The closer the strips are together, the sturdier the product.

SPRINGS - Good springing is important for comfort as well as wearability. No one type of spring construction is superior to all others. In general, the closer together and deeper the springs are, the better - an inexpensive chair will have four to six rows of springs. Springs should be tied to each other so they will not come apart.

FILLING MATERIAL -- Both the quality of filling materials and the amount used are important to the comfort and wearability of the furniture. Read the label to see what type of stuffing is used.

Choose closely-woven fabrics for better wear. Be sure to ask questions about care.

GIBBONS CO-OP SEED CLEANING ASS'N

Notice of Annual Meeting

Chairman Don Devington and Secretary Gilbert Fearnley are hopeful that all shareholders of the association will be able to attend.

rations.
*Increased emphasis is being placed on feed testing by government extension personnel.

*Improved feed testing laboratory services.

Mr. Martin says that although there has been a significant increase in the number of feed samples containing supplements, home-grown grains and roughages since a new policy allowing for this type of analysis came into force in the spring, it does not account for the overall increase in sample numbers. However, the fact that analysis of mixed samples is gaining in popularity indicates that the new policy is meeting a need. The soil and feed testing laboratory still does not accept samples of pure concentrates or protein supplements.

Farmers who are interested in having their feed analyzed should contact the district agriculturist where cartons and instructions are available.

Extension programs for farmers

The following programs offered by the department of agriculture and the district agriculturist are considered beneficial to farmers in this district.

1. Combine School - To be held on Thursday, Dec. 10 at 10 a.m. at the MD Workshop in Morinville.

This is a practical course on the adjustment and maintenance of the combine.

2. Beef Breeding and Swine Breeding Program - A one-day course on Breeds of Beef Cattle, Principles of Breeding, Application of Cattle Breeding program and Swine Breeding program is scheduled for Dec. 17, 1970 at 10 a.m. at the Municipal Building in Morinville.

A question and discussion period will be held after the lectures.
At least 30 students are required and 30 can be accommodated. The fee of $10 per student barely covers the overhead. Registration for this course can be made at any time in the district agriculturist's office. Registration will be on a first-come first-served basis and should be done before Jan. 10, 1971. This school will be cancelled if the minimum of students cannot be obtained prior to Jan. 10.

This is an excellent school and is for the farmers' benefit.

As I See It

By Rose Martel

It is now official, the Hutterites are moving into our district.

A long, long time ago, the gentle and peaceful Cree were also masters of the plains we now call Sturgeon. MD St. Albert, Morinville, Legal, Namo, etc. and now what remains of this proud Indian race is located in a small area called Alexandre Reserve, located 17 miles west of Morinville. Now another minority, unknown to most, is coming to settle in our midst, the Hutterites. Our theme could well be "Liberation from Bondage."

In our own district we have several cultures that make this community so much richer and also cultures that could make divisions. How many of you are aware of the two different cultures that will now border our own district. Our theme could well be "Liberation from Bondage."

To the west less than 20 miles we have an Indian Reserve, and to the north will come a Hutterite Colony from Sandhill. Both these cultures are causing controversy in our society. Both peoples have been under bondage and both have or are seeking liberation. Let us discuss the "Hutterites."

The Hutterites of Russia left Prussia, their former country on account of religious objection to military service. They settled in Russia on a promise of the Czar, that they would be allowed to educate their children in their own way, in their own schools in the German language, and be allowed to make affirmation instead of Oath in the courts of justice.

These same people were asked to leave Russia before the year 1803. Canada was visited by their delegates in 1872 and again in 1873. Following this, they emigrated to Canada.

Under chartered rights of the Canadian government in July of 1873, they were granted several requested privileges. One was the right to educate their children in their own way. Let us further examine the education of the Hutterite child which commences at the age of two and one half years, when the child is first sent to school, in the distinctive dress of his sex. Small boys wear a garb similar to their father and small girls are dressed in long sweeping skirts like their mother's. There are two-three school mothers who take charge alternately. For the noon meal, they have soup or the same food that is served in the colony dining room. After lunch the children have their nap. At 2:30 they are awakened to repeat their evening prayers and are sent home.

While they attend kindergarten, the children are taught simple short religious songs and prayers. The child's formal education begins at six years of age. For the first year the child spends four or five hours a day, five days a week, with a German teacher, and learns to read and write High German.

At the age of seven, the children start public school under the supervision of a non Hutterite teacher with the provincial curriculum. But the German teacher will have the students for an additional two hours each day, six days a week.

When a boy is seven years old, he will receive his own New Testament book, and begin a program of memorizing 200 Bible verses. When completed he will be assigned another 300 verses, so he will have memorized 500 verses before he is 15 years old. When he completes the first 200 Bible verses, the student is given his own book of scripture history. Fifty four stories are based on the Old Testament and 55 on the New Testament. These 109 Bible stories, make up the course of studies for the German school. Eight years of this study enables the student to recite these stories from memory at the age of 15 years.

At 15 the Hutterite youth leaves both the German school and the public school to do his share of colony work. He can now speak and write three languages: High German, Low German and English. He or she now enters an apprenticeship under a trained craftsman. The boys may be trained in carpentry, become specialized hog man, bee-keeper, shoemaker etc.

All the girls must learn the art of dressing, gardening, cooking, eggkeeping and dairy products.

As I see it, their educational system, simple as it may sound, reveals that the Hutterites have been aware of the effective instructional methods, which are being confirmed, through research in our own modern society. Can it be all wrong? I say as Canadians and Albertans, enjoying a very high standard of living, could well ponder the contribution made to our society by other cultures. With the cost of education spiralling in Canada, and university graduates now looking for jobs by the thousands, perhaps we could learn a valuable lesson. Perhaps we should have more trade schools and less academic courses in our own schools, for those who cannot obtain a university degree, or prefer non-academic education.

The Hutterites and Indians have much to offer us, let them be welcomed as members of our community. Different as they may be they are all God's children and members of the human family.

Morinville Locals

Monday morning funeral services were held for Denis Ropel, 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Ropel of Morinville, who died on Nov. 26 after a very short illness. Rev. G. H. Primeau officiated and interment followed in the local church cemetery.

A sincere expression of sympathy is offered to Mr. and Mrs. Leon Ropel and members of their family. Denis is survived by his loving parents, one sister Mrs. J. (Priscilla) Schafers RR 1, Riviere Qui Barre; brothers, Maurice, Claude and Richard.

Last weekend the death of a former well known resident of Legal and Morinville, Mrs. Jeanne Ash (Tessier) sister of the late Monsignor, Emile Tessier, passed away suddenly in Montreal. Funeral services were held in the east. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. G. M. Trudel of Edmonton.

Among those reported in hospital this past week from the district were: Mrs. Robert Chauvet and Mrs. Claudette Turgeon.

Next Sunday will be a busy one for the residents of Morinville and Mearns, providing the weatherman behaves himself as he did last Sunday. The St. Charles Parish supper will be held beginning at 5:30 p.m. until 8 p.m. In Morinville the Lions will sponsor a turkey bingo beginning at 8 p.m. in the Morinville Recreation Centre. All receipts will be spent in Community projects so it will be money well spent at both places.

Last Sunday the Morinville United Church ladies held their Christmas bake sale and bazaar in the Legion Hall. A very good crowd patronized the ladies' tea and sale of articles.

Lucky winners of articles were the hand made quilt, Mrs. Anne Maslyk and the large cake donated by Mrs. Joyce Granger, Mrs. Alice St. Germain, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Steffes, welcomed their first born, a son, Colin Russell, born Oct. 23 in Calgary. Godparents, uncle and aunt of the infant, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Steffes.

Mr. Emile Terraault is reported out of the intensive ward and resting in hospital after his recent heart attack.

Bishop John Bokenfohr OMI wrote a Christmas letter to all his friends and relatives recently from his resting home in Ontario. His health is not improving much

Sturgeon libraries impress visitors

Sturgeon School Division was recently host to a group of librarians from the Maritimes and the Province of Quebec.

The tour was sponsored and travelling expenses and accommodation paid for by the Liaison Committee of the Secretary of State's Bilingualism and Biculturalism fund. Leader of the tour was Agathe Decaire of Ottawa.

Librarians representing the Canadian Library Association and the Association Canadienne des Bibliothèques de Langue Française had been selected for the tour on the basis of contributions they had made and could make to school libraries in their own areas, from the university level down to the small rural school.

The group had toured school libraries in Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Edmonton before visiting the Sturgeon schools.

These librarians were most favorably impressed with Sturgeon's school libraries and the programs in the schools involving the materials in the libraries and the services of the full time teacher-librarians.

The tour ended at Namo school where lunch was prepared and served by ladies of the Namo community. Sturgeon Division has seven schools, each with a library and there was time to visit five of these with the visitors. Helen Kerr, division librarian; all members of the Sturgeon Board; Reg Austin, chairman John McDonnell, Lois Hole and Harold Paul; superintendent Frank Robinson and John Wright of the School of Libraries at the U of A, and Blanche Fridelchsen, provincial library supervisor accompanied the eastern visitors on the tour. Libraries at Horse Hill, Gibbons, Bon Accord, Mission Park and Namo schools were visited. Camilla school in Riviere Qui Barre and Cunningham School in Morinville were not able to be worked in.

Letters received from the librarians from Moncton, N.B. and Mile Decaire, since they returned to their homes, both singled out the Sturgeon school libraries as among the most interesting they visited.

Deaths from cancer of the cervix could almost be eliminated if all women had a Pap test at regular intervals. The Pap test is a simple, painless examination which can be done in a doctor's office, according to the Canadian Cancer Society, whose campaign slogan is "Cancer can be beaten."

and he is under active treatment at the present time. He sends his blessing and best wishes to all the residents of the district, and wishes to be remembered to all. His niece, Sister Dena Bokenfohr has also been ill and back from her mission work. She has been resting also in Canada recently. She too wishes all friends and relatives a blessed Christmas.

Local school programs were interrupted again on Monday when all students travelling on buses had to be taken back home early at noon on account of local blizzard conditions.

The local curling rink is busy with 20 rinks in the regular square draws.

Mrs. Carol West and her six children escaped serious injuries on Sunday morning, when she was involved in a head-on car collision two miles north of Morinville. The driver of the other car, was reported to be a Miss England from the city.

4-H Council holds annual meeting

The annual meeting of the Sturgeon 4-H council was held on Monday, Nov. 23 in the basement of the municipal office at Morinville. Despite the very bad road conditions there was a very good representation out. A welcome guest was Mr. Rick Andrews our new 4-H specialist with the department of youth.

Discussion of the evening concerned the recent exchange trip to Wisconsin and the activities for the coming year. It was decided the Nemo 4-H club would host the district speak-offs for public speaking which will be held on or about April 16. The regional speak offs will be held one week later on April 23. It was also decided to table the ally until a later date. Mr. Andrews then spoke to the group concerning the possibility of high school students obtaining from 3 to 5 credits for the work they do in 4-H, subject to the approval of the school principal.

Mr. Melvin Clark chaired the meeting as the election of officers followed. Here are the new officers for the coming year: Doug Bowman president; Mrs. Leona Petherbridge, vice-president; Miss Joyce Rigney, secretary; Miss Valerie Durocher, treasurer; Tom Bowman, reporter.

The next proposed meeting will be held in the Morinville office on January 18, 1971.

Legal High reports

By Bernice Mercier

Legal's sports committee declared Friday, November 27 as "Western Day," at Legal High. The school was stampeded by cowboys and cowgirls decked out in their Sunday duds. A pancake-dinner was held with a "pancake-eating" contest as the centre of attraction. Two representatives, a girl and a boy, from each class of grades 9 - 12 were chosen to participate in the contest. The time limit was three minutes. The winners were: Girl's 1st prize - Sylvia Blodeau, grade 10 representative who ate 12 1/2 pancakes; 2nd - Rachel St. Martin, grade 12 representative - 8 1/2 pancakes. Boys: Gary Garneau and Alphonse Douleah, grade 11 representative, and grade 12 representative, ate each nine pancakes.

A rodeo was held from 1 - 9 p.m. in the school gymnasium. The students participated in a number of events. The champion of each event was:

Milking: Boys - Richard Cornelis; Girls - Dolores Letourneau.
Indian Wrestling: Boys - Richard Cornelis; Girls - Anne Kallal.
Arm Wrestling: Boys - Guy Garneau; Girls - Rita Teulie.
Horse Fights: Boys - Don Dechamplain, Marcel Letourneau; Girls - Anne Kallal, Julie Gagne.

The best dressed cowboy was Marcel Letourneau, and the best dressed cowgirl was Bernice Mercier. A dance was held at 9 with music supplied by the 5th Parallel.

The sports committee would like to thank, first of all, the ladies who displayed their fantastic cooking talents during the noon hour, and also all the students who participated in the events during the day, giving their tremendous support.

CHEERLEADERS
Legal cheerleaders have been a great influence so far on the development of the spirit of Legal High, and I'm sure this will continue. They have acquired new uniforms this year - white turtleneck sweaters and black scooter skirts. The 10 cheerleaders are: Bonnie Campbell, Diane Bordenak, Debbie Mercier, Patsy Therberge, Jeanne Clement, Margo Montpelt, Lorraine De Champlain, Lila Larose, Jocelyne St. Martin, and Cecile Van De Walle.

Five of the cheerleaders, Rita Larose, Jeanne Clement, Debbie Mercier, Diane Bordenak, Cecile Van De Walle, attended a cheerleaders clinic held in Calgary, the weekend of the 27th. The girls were driven by Miss Rondeau, teacher in Legal.

Keep up the good work girls!

Gibbons 4-H plans bake sale

The Gibbons 4-H Garden Club held its organization meeting November 4. This year there are 10 members in the club. Election of officers was as follows:

President - Judy Demers; vice-president, Debby Demers; secretary, Kathy Visscher; treasurer, Linda Lamoureux; lunch committee are Dianne Gordon and Myrna McCowan, and on the entertainment committee, Ritchy Visscher, Allan McCowan and Rob Paradis.

Mr. Jim McCowan is the club leader, and assistant leaders are Mrs. Edith Visscher, Mrs. Edith Demers, and Mrs. Myrtle Paradis. We congratulate our third year member, Judy Demers, who was runner-up in the provincial project book competition.

Edith Paradis won the efficiency award for last year's club work.

On Nov. 23, two members Linda Lamoureux and Edith Paradis, attended the County meeting in Morinville. Rick Andrews, the regional 4-H specialist, explained several of the new developments concerning 4-H projects, which will certainly be applicable to the club work this year.

The club has planned a program of activities, the first of which will be a bake sale, held at the Fort Saskatchewan Safeway, Saturday, Dec. 5, starting at 1:30 p.m.

Around Sturgeon

Mrs. Jim Sharp on RR 8, who suffered a badly fractured wrist has had her right hand and wrist in a cast for six weeks, and will have to wear it for some weeks yet. Among other problems involved is that of Christmas baking. We have evidence for our theory that "a husband is a girl's best friend," because Mr. Sharp came through and made the Christmas cake!

Ever thought of growing an indoor tree?

Modern homes do not provide window sills and there is a limit to the amount of plants one can accommodate on the coffee table or on top of the piano.

Modern decor does benefit from the addition of some greenery and one large plant may be just what is needed to bring a room to life or give it some character.

Most large house plants are tropical or sub-tropical in origin and would grow into large shrubs or trees in their native habitat. In the environment of a modern home they grow very slowly and their size and shape can be controlled by the size pot they are grown in, and judicious pruning, for many years.

Such large plants may cost from five to seventy-five dollars. The size, difficulty of propagation and popularity control the cost. Most of these indoor trees are grown in Florida or California and shipped north when they reach the desired size. Shipping plants with large root systems and supporting soil is expensive.

One of the least expensive is the common Rubber tree which is easily propagated by air layering. Small plants can be purchased for under five dollars. The thick, elliptical, dark green leaves and rather stiff form can create a dramatic accent in a rather limited space. A close relative is the Fiddle Leaf Fig. This plant has large fiddle shaped leaves, not quite as dark or smooth as those of the rubber tree. It forms a small branched head and will occasionally produce figs. Both these plants will grow quite well in poor light and with a minimum of care. Their health will be improved by fertilizing once a month from March to October and by placing them outdoors in a sheltered location for the summer.

The Umbrella tree—Schefflera actinophylla—is an attractive plant with glossy whorls of leaves and it is available in a variety of sizes.

Others Say...

Another Stumbling Block

With civic elections out of the way, councils in Alberta are settling into a new term of government, some maintaining the status quo, others introducing new members in varying numbers to the tasks of running the communities.

Old hands at the business will be viewing the months ahead with mixed emotions. Depending on their individual temperaments some will be facing the new term with confidence which may, or may not, be justified; others with wonderment over the vagaries of public favor and perhaps some trepidation over their own future success or failure. Newcomers, their dreams fresher, are visualizing a brave

It is bushier than the Rubber and Fig trees and will take up more room. It appreciates good lighting.

A tree for a stark, modern interior, or for a room decorated in a south seas theme is Dracaena (or Cordyline) Marginate. This has angular, bare stems topped with a cluster of spiky, grey-green leaves edged with reddish-purple. It is quite striking and is also obtainable in a juvenile form without the stem. It requires winter sunlight.

Norfolk Island Pine (Araucaria) looks more like a Spruce than a pine with symmetrical whorls of branches covered in short, bright green needles. Older specimens have drooping branches, but small plants are quite stiff. You might consider one for a permanent Christmas tree.

Buddhist pine with a feathery appearance, orange trees and several palms are also usually available and make attractive additions to the home decorating scheme.

new world, not yet disillusioned by the barriers of bureaucracy. Perhaps they have had time to become somewhat chastened by the ominous, and it is hoped erroneous, forecast that at least a year's novitiate is required for a competent councillor.

It is to be hoped this induction time has been over-emphasized. Because all councillors, be they tyros or pros, are faced this year with a brand new stumbling block to local government.

Next year, for the first time in Alberta, all municipal governing bodies and many administrative and advisory boards will be required by Alberta law to elect a complete slate of officers.

For some reason this innovation, presented by the central government, has received little attention to date. In recent weeks there became evidence that its implications are being recognized. It is important that governing bodies meet this challenge in the proper perspective during the short months ahead.

People who volunteer their time and ability to local government usually are an interesting combination of dreamer and realist. They have hopes and plans for the future and, at the same time, are intensely aware of the pressures and demands of the present. They must juggle with dexterity the visions of future benefits against the exigencies of the day. Let their dreams become overly predominant and they are branded as extravagant; let their planning become overly cautious and they are impeding progress.

Now, with the peculiar electoral situation of 1971 looming, the question is whether they chart a firm course with an eye toward future improvements for their communities, or do they sail safely in shall-low calm with an eye to the next election. The latter course is not necessarily a selfish one. Ratepayers who have had experience with overly dictatorial civil servants or inept paid assistants can attest to the merit of avoiding wholesale eviction of any elected, controlling body.

Actually the solution to the dilemma facing today's elected representatives in Alberta civic circles lies in the field of public relations. The plea coming from Ottawa frequently during the present federal crises carries weight at every level — to keep the public informed; that Canadians can face up to any situation except misinformation or lack of information.

Already hard-pressed governments at all local levels, it appears, would do well to acquire one more time-consuming but necessary facet to their public image, the art of successful communication.

Keeping the public informed could be in the general interest, particularly when the votes are counted in October 1971.

At Wit's End

By Erma Bombeck

(C) 1969, Newsday, Inc.

I have no idea of the circumference of my legs. I only know they are bigger than a water glass, smaller than a furnace duct and impossible to fit into the new knee-length boots.

It is probably my own sensitivity, but I always imagine boot salesmen are the lowest in seniority. They are serving time in this department only because their father, who owns the store, wants to keep them humble.

My salesman was a leg watcher. (Not mine, however.) "I would like a pair of boots," I said.

He scrutinized me closely, squinted his eyes and appeared with a pair of Arctic boots that laced up to the knee.

"No, you don't understand," I said. "I don't want to build a snowman. I want a pair of dressy boots to wear with wools and jumpers."

With detachment, he went over to a display table and returned with a boot so long and narrow it had an echo. There was only one pair of legs in the world that would fit into that boot: Phyllis Diller's. (As a friend of mine once remarked on Phyllis' legs: "The last time I saw legs that size they had a message attached to them.")

"Where's the zipper?" I asked.

"There is no zipper," he yawned. "They're the new easy-stretch pull-ons." He reached in to take out the tissue paper and his arm got stuck.

"Perhaps one with a zipper," I suggested.

He placed the zippered boot on my foot and began to ease the zipper all the way up to my ankle bone. Then it stopped.

"Thanks anyway," I said, "but . . ."

"No, no," he insisted. "It'll work. Just twist your foot a little and bear down." A crowd began to form.

"Really," I said, "It's no use. The boot is too . . ."

"We can do it," he insisted. His pocket comb fell out and he ignored it. The blood rushed to his head and I feared for a nosebleed.

"Maybe if you took off those heavy hose."

"My nylons?" I gasped.

"Look, Lady," he shouted forcing the zipper, "Suck in! Suck in!"

My leg throbbed. I spoke softly. "I appreciate what you are trying to do, but just bring me that pair over on the center table."

"Are you sure those are what you want?" he asked.

"They'll do fine," I said. I slipped easily into the ankle-length white boot with a stencil of Cinderella and a castle on the side. I may not be a fashion plate, but I'll be a smash at Show and Tell.

Built-in highway safety

To contribute to safety on our highways, directional sign standards in many locations on the province's highway system are designed to break away upon vehicle impact. This built-in safety feature prevents the metal sign from falling off just above the road when hit by a vehicle, knocking the sign into the air to fall behind the vehicle. The Alberta Department of Highways and Transport includes many more safety features in its expressway projects: ditches are made sufficient wide with gentle side and bank slopes and rounded contours to permit a car to get off the highway and normally recover without rolling or colliding with back slope obstructions. Safety concrete curbing designed to allow a vehicle to ride up a sloping shoulder and be deflected back to the travel lane is being used in lieu of guardrails at various locations. High mast lighting at interchanges permits better illumination with fewer poles to become traffic hazards. Of course, the most extensive elimination of common traffic hazards is accomplished via the complete freeway system, the first stages of which Alberta drivers enjoy with the fully divided highways such as those between Edmonton and north of Calgary or between Calgary and Banff Park gate.

Exclusively for the ladies

There are, in circulation in Alberta, an estimated 70,000 copies of a booklet called "Wills and Estates for Albertans". Originally printed to advise Alberta women on the problems and procedures of drawing up a will, the publication has attracted the attention of men's groups as well. It has also been reprinted by commercial organizations concerned with this aspect of legal preparedness. Presently, the book is being revised and updated by its publisher, the Alberta Women's Bureau. The Bureau acts as liaison between the provincial government and Alberta women, and specializes in the collection, compilation, and publication of information on matters of particular interest to women. It also conducts various workshops throughout the province. The Alberta Women's Bureau is the provincial government's response to the growing participation of women in business and community life and to their desire for accurate information on an ever-increasing variety of subjects.

Estate tax rebate

Last year, more than 500 estates received estate tax rebates totalling over $5 million. This estate tax rebate program is financed by the provincial share of federal estate tax which, under provincial statutes, is returned to the estates of deceased persons who were bonafide residents of Alberta. The rebate program is designed to relieve the tax burden on estates within the province and to encourage investment in Alberta. The amount of rebate to eligible estates is 75 per cent of federal estate tax attributable to Alberta property.

Anyone planning a personal estate, or persons making applications for a rebate, can obtain advice from the Estate Tax Rebate Branch, which provides a brochure outlining eligibility, procedures, and requirements. During the present fiscal year, the branch estimates that it will return over $7 million to Alberta estates.

Financial aid for crime victims

Since October 1969, 22 victims of crimes of violence in Alberta have received over $50,000 in compensation for injuries received. Other applicants are presently being considered by the Criminal Injuries Compensation Board, established by the provincial government for this purpose. Any resident of the province who is injured as a direct result of a crime of violence or as a direct result of endeavoring to arrest someone, or preserving the peace or assisting a police officer in carrying out his duty, or the dependents of anyone killed in any of these circumstances, is eligible to file a claim for compensation.

The secretary of the Board, a qualified lawyer, acts as counsel for applicants who do not have legal representation and presents the case to the Board. Public hearings are held at regular intervals for presentation of claims. For complete information on the extent of compensation available and the procedures for making a claim, telephone the Crimes Compensation Board at 229 3087, Edmonton.

Special education services

The provincial government, through the Alberta Department of Education, provides a variety of services, facilities and financial assistance in the important field of special education. In 1970, for example, 2,904 students with such handicaps as subnormal mentality and defective hearing and eyesight enrolled. Blind students are maintained at the expense of the Department (tuition, travel and tuition) at special schools outside the province. A library of textbooks in braille and tape form has allowed an increasing number of blind students to remain in the classroom.

The Department also provides grants towards operating and capital costs of schools for the retarded, both public and private. The Alberta School for the Deaf, operated by the Department, provided special education services for about 135 youngsters during the 1970-71 school year. In addition, the school is developing a special program and learning centre for the needs of children who are both emotionally disturbed and deaf. And to improve communications, the Department offers a consultative and referral service to help the parents of handicapped children. Write to "Special Education", Department of Education, Room 608, Administration Building, Edmonton.

Results in on preschool program

The Sturgeon Health Unit last week filed a report on the four-year-old preschool screening program with the Health Unit Board; tabulating the results.

Since the pre-school screening program for four year olds was established in St. Albert in January of 1969, it has been gradually expanded to serve most of the health unit area. To date 500 children, 243 boys and 257 girls have been examined by health unit nurses at an average age of four years, three months. This represents about 40 per cent of the unit's four year old population.

The local health unit worked on a number of measures to draw as many as possible of the children into the program. The first step was a colorful birthday card sent at four years and inviting the child. Letters were written and telephoning done by the unit's head office in St. Albert, and nurses also did extensive telephoning in their areas of work.

The objective of the program is to discover any health defects a four year old may have which would hinder his progress when he begins school. The four year olds are given comprehensive testing in a one hour session, followed by separate dental check on a different day, and the program runs the year around.

Speech, hearing and eyesight are a major part of the examination. The report presented to the board last week shows the following results: of 447 children examined 79 per cent had satisfactory speech; 1.8 per cent were referred and 19 per cent are to be kept under observation.

Eighty-four per cent of the children had satisfactory hearing, 2.3 per cent were referred and 14 per cent were found to be normal after re-examination. Eyesight examination results showed 5.5 per cent short-sighted, 4 per cent long-sighted and 4 per cent had squint.

Intelligence is roughly assessed by the Peabody Picture Vocabulary Test. Muscular co-ordination is checked by the Denver Development Test and behavior is assessed by a questionnaire completed by the mother. Questions on health education raised by the mothers are discussed as well.

Children with three or more behavior problems, (56), were deemed to need further counselling or investigation, but each problem served as a basis for discussion between health unit personnel and the mothers.

Dental defects were also caught and followed up under

A MONKEY'S MEDITATION

A MONKEY'S MEDITATION

A monkey musing in his cage
Upon the progress of the age.
Half-whispered as I happened by,
"This evolution is a lie."

Surprised to hear him speak so plain,
I paused profounder truths to gain.
Unconscious I was there to heed,
He thus continued with his creed:

"For mortal man to try to trace
Descent from our illustrious race
Is rank injustice to our clan,
The monkey much surpasses man.

"In bloody wars, men butcher men;
They slander both with tongue and pen.
They cheat, they lie, they swear, they steal;
And wild with wine, they rock and reel.

"They trample justice in the dust;
They loll in luxury and lust.
Their men, their women, young and old,
They sell their very selves for gold.

"They laugh at law, they twist the truth,
They crucify the dreams of youth.
Their hearts are hard as solid stone;
They worship God with lips alone.

the program, and fluoride applications given. The state of immunization of 425 of the children was also reviewed and brought up to date, except in three cases where it was refused.

Edmonton health units initiated the same program at the same time as St. Albert, being the first two areas in the province to do so. Dr. Howell reports that their report of results is very similar to that of Sturgeon.

It was Charles F. Kettering who said "Problems are the price of progress: don't bring me anything but trouble--good news weakens me."

"Mother," said the boy, "will you help me with some words? Is it correct to say you 'water a horse' when he's thirsty?"

"Yes, quite correct."

"Then (picking up a saucer) I'm going to milk the cat."

"Man thus has left a trail of crime,
Too foul to sanctify with time.
The record of the human race
Brings flaming blushes to my face.

"The monkey leads the simple life,
Is loyal to his wedded wife.
No lady monkey yet, of course,
Has ever sought or won divorce!

"The monkey home is still serene,
The father, king; the mother, queen.
The little monkeys, too, obey
Their parents in the good old way.

"We have no haunts of sin and shame.
No racketeers our ranks defame.
Our record stands an open book
At which the world has leave to look.

"No self-respecting monkey can
Admit himself akin to man.
According to the Word from on high,
This evolution is a lie." --D. E. Guyton.

Comets still winless

RICH PERRAULT

JIM READ

ART SCOTT

It appears as though the Comets magic number 'his year is nine (unfortunately) as in four of the five games they have played the opposition has scored nine goals in each game.

They lost the other game 6 - 5 against Stony Plain.

Last Wednesday Ray's Esso thumped them 9 - 3 scoring five goals in the last period. Ray's Esso scored the only goal of the opening period and outscored the Comets 3 - 1 in the second.

Once again the Comets ran out of gas in the third period as Rays dominated the last period and scored five times while allowing St. Albert only two.

Defenceman Richie Perrault led St. Albert with three points including an unassisted goal. Jim Read kept his scoring streak going with his fifth goal of the season and an assist. Art Scott scored St. Albert's other goal. Fred McKenzie scored three times for the winners.

St. Albert will get a chance tonight to move out of the basement as they meet Namao, who are also winless in six outings. Game time is 7 p.m.

When all the rocks had been delivered in the fifth end, Johnson counted eight to go ahead of Dr. Dolman (8 - 3). The Editor:

As a member of the Canadian Association for Humane Trapping, I am appealing to the citizens of Alberta to write to their MLA's in Edmonton urging that legislation be enacted banning the cruel leg-hold animal trap. An alternative is the Conibear trap which is more humane and better economically. The engineering department of McMaster University is engaged in a research program to develop other types of instant killing traps for fur-bearing animals. For more information about CAHT and its aims, please write to Box 9, Site 13, RR 2, Calgary 2.

New look addition opened at SAM School

The official opening of Sir Alexander Mackenzie school addition took place on Friday evening, Nov. 27. The program started at 8 p.m. with O'Canada played by the University Concert Band, followed by the invocation, given by Rev. R. Olson.

Mr. R. Thronson, principal of the school, introduced the platform guests:

Mr. Gish, separate school superintendent; Mr. Stan Hodgson, architect; Mayor Ray Gibbon; Mr. Charles Schroder, chairman of the Separate School Board; Mr.

Ross Grady, contractor; Mr. Cyril Pyrch, co-ordinator of Fine Arts for the department of education and Rev. R. Olson.

Mayor Gibbon brought congratulations from the Town of St. Albert, remarking that it has been his wish to have St. Albert "The Family Town."

Mr. Schroder gave a short resume of additions that have been made to the separate schools since 1962 and reported that due to the increase in population, plans are being made for a new high school and possibly other new schools. He congratulated Mr. Thronson, Mr. Hodgson and Mr. Grady for working so well together, making it possible for the addition to be finished in time for the opening of school in September.

Mr. Pyrch paid tribute to the officials for their fine education facilities, which with the advent of the University of Athabasca, will make St. Albert an education centre. On behalf of the department of education, he presented Mr. Thronson with a beautiful scenic picture and an Alberta Flag to commemorate the official opening.

Mr. Thronson thanked Mr. Pyrch very appropriately for the gifts.

The second part of the evenings program was a half hour of music by the University Concert Band with Dr. John Ittis, conductor. Dr. Ittis gave a short introduction to each selection. The 75-piece band was tremendous and enjoyed very much by all those present.

For the ribbon-cutting ceremony, everyone went from the auditorium down the hall to the new addition. Mr. Grady, Mr. Gish, Mr. Schroder, Mrs. Martha Russell and Miss Janice Wilson held the ribbon. Mr Pyrch cut the ribbon and proclaimed the new addition officially opened, after which all present were conducted on a tour.

The open area addition provides space for 10 classrooms around a centrally located library, a staff room, work room, medical room, conference room, science storage and two washrooms.

About 40 movable partitions, six feet in height, divide the classroom space according to the requirements of teaching the courses offered by the school, and the wishes of the teachers involved. Co-operative teaching is used in the school. The partitions generally have blackboards on one side and bulletin boards on the other, or sometimes coat racks make up one side. Carpeting and acoustic ceiling tile hold noise level to that of an ordinary classroom or less.

Renovations have been made to rooms formerly used for industrial arts and some economics and this space, located adjacent to the addition, is now used for a guidance office, a room for small group student activity and an art room.

Since the open area addition was completed, Principal Rod Thronson reports that the basic design has been changed three times and the movable partition arrangement is working very well. The students appear to enjoy the comfortable surroundings and can sometimes be found doing assignments in groups on the floor. They are also using the library more.

Mr. Thronson has been welcoming a steady stream of visiting teachers from St. Albert District #3 and from Edmonton schools, who are interested in the addition's modern design.

A group of five of the people attending the official opening of the new addition to Sir Alexander Mackenzie school, look over the open area design.

Recipe of the Week

Holland Edam Cheese Muffins

For a delightfully different touch to the versatile muffin, try adding the mellow, nut-like taste of imported Holland Edam cheese. Edam muffins are great with coffee for breakfast or brunch, with soup for lunch, with dinner or as a late night snack.

2 cups all purpose flour
2-4 tablespoons sugar
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups shredded imported Holland Edam (about 6 oz.)
1 egg
1 cup milk
1/4 cup melted butter or margarine

Sift the flour, salt, baking powder, and sugar together in a mixing bowl. Fold in shredded imported Holland Edam, coating the cheese with the flour mixture. Add the unbeaten egg, milk and melted fat; stir quickly and lightly until mixed (do not beat). Spoon into well-greased muffin pans filling each cup two-thirds full. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 20-30 minutes. The smaller the muffin the shorter the baking-time. Makes 16 medium muffins.

FORMER EDSON RESIDENT Rosalle Pinske of Edmonton looks over the agreement that will make Wetaskiwin the most important spot on the map when the North-Am International Snowmobile Race is held there next February. With Rosalle is Jack Pike and Ed McMullen.

$70,000 in prizes at Wetaskiwin snowmobile races

The world's richest snowmobile races, with a total purse of up to $70,000 will be staged at Wetaskiwin in February.

The North-Am International Snowmobile Race committee and Alberta Shriners announced recently that they have joined forces to offer the lucrative and unique power toboggan racing event.

Jack Pike, chairman of the Wetaskiwin group, and H.A. Taylor, of Calgary, illustrious Potentate of Alberta's Al Azhar Shrine Temple, said it will be the only race of its kind sponsored by the Shrine in North America and likely the only race run for a charitable organization.

The races, to be run in two separate divisions, are slated for February 5, 6 and 7, 1971.

The guaranteed purse for the second annual North-Am International competition has been increased to $20,000, Mr. Pike noted. Registration will be $50 per machine.

Up to $50,000 will be up for grabs in the Shrine North-Am International division, where the entry fee has been set at $1,000 per snowmobile.

Net profits from the event--The Shriners are shooting for $200,000 will go toward the Shrine Hospitals for crippled children.

The Shrine competition is expected to attract about 300 drivers, including crack factory teams. It is anticipated that more than 500 drivers from Canada, the United States and possibly Europe will compete in the two divisions.

"Our association with the Shrine gives the North-Am competition true international status," Mr. Pike said. "We are proud that the Shriners chose the North-Am when selecting a prestige race to further their work with crippled children."

The North-Am event is the only international snowmobile race in Western Canada sanctioned by the North Western Snowmobile Association of Alberta, British Columbia and Saskatchewan and the Western Snowmobile Association which represents the western U.S. The 1970 edition offered a purse of $15,000 added and drew 20,000 spectators to Wetaskiwin.

Festival goes two nights

St Albert's annual Christmas Carol Festival is going to be the biggest ever this year. In fact it has outgrown its one-nighter format and moved into a two-night show.

Seventeen groups of singers, all from St. Albert, have now entered the festival and it will be presented on December 21 and 22 at the St. George Simpson school auditorium.

This number of groups of local singers is really quite remarkable for a community the size of St. Albert, as will be seen when the festival is compared to the Rotary Carol service in Edmonton, which has 55 participating groups of singers.

The St. Albert Singers under Director Lillian Upright are organizing the event.

Envy, among other ingredients, has a mixture of the love of justice in it. We are more angry at undeserved than at deserved good fortune. Hazlitt.

Many men profess to hate another, but no man owns envy, as being an enmity or displeasure for no cause but goodness or felicity. - Jeremy Taylor.

If the egotist is weak, his egotism is worthless. If the egotist is strong, acute, full of distinctive character, his egotism is precious, and remains a possession of the race. - Alexander Smith.

Byron owed the vast influence which he exercised over his contemporaries at least as much to his gloomy egotism as to the real power of his poetry - Macaulay.

Want to see a real fireworks display? Drop in at our house when we're two hours late for dinner.

Listen

When a teen-ager asks for advice or merely wants to chat. Listen.

When a minority group tries to tell us their side. Listen.

When someone in need asks for help. Listen.

When someone older and wiser offers us his views. Listen.

When a true friend says you're great but you could be better. Listen.

When a child speaks with the wisdom granted only the very young and the very old. Listen.

If we do, it will be the happiest Christmas ever. For everyone.

We enjoyed this from AGT Telenotes.

An intelligent class can scarce ever be, as a class vicious; never, as a class indolent. The excited mental activity operates as a counterpoise to the stimulus of sense and appetite - Edward Everett.

As an apple is not in any proper sense an apple until it is ripe, so a human being is not in any proper sense a human being until he is educated - Horace Mann.

At a reception I was talking to a friendly stranger who had arrived late. "I don't know what's the matter with that tall man over there," I said rather questioningly. "He was so attentive a while ago, but he won't look at me now." "Perhaps he saw me come in," she replied. "He's my husband."

Before we passionately desire anything which another enjoys, we should examine into the happiness of its possessor. - Rochefoucauld.

Noted ecologist will speak to Fish and Game

The "Ecosystem as a basis for resource policy and what you can do for it," is the subject of a talk to be presented to the local Fish and Game Club on Dec. 8.

Consulting Ecologist, Jim Nalback will present the talk. Jim spent 17 years with the U.S. Forest Service in Multiple Resource management, and has been in Alberta for the last four years. Mr. Nalback specializes in range and wildlife ecology.

The meeting will be held in the St. Albert Community Hall beginning at 8 p.m.

The "Farmer-Hunter" night held in November was attended by many of the district farmers. Mr. Ernie Psikla from the department of lands and forests and Constable Mike Ferguson of the St. Albert RCMP answered many questions on the Wildlife Act and Criminal Code.

They pointed out that effective enforcement involves everyone, not just the men wearing uniforms. When an individual shoots game out of season or causes property damage it is the responsibility of everyone to see that these incidents are reported.

Mrs. Doris Lindsay of Wabaman won the draw for a 1,000 pound steer, while

Christmas at Planetarium

The annual family program for the Christmas season is currently being presented at the Queen Elizabeth Planetarium.

When was the Christ Child Born? What was the Star of Christmas? These are questions asked, and by timing known historical facts, some interesting conclusions have been drawn. Families will enjoy the "Star of Christmas" presentation Tuesday to Friday, 8 p.m., Saturday at 3:30 p.m. and Sundays from 3 - 8 p.m. No preschool children please.

Mr. Frank Clark of 7518-81 Avenue, Edmonton won the market hog. With the success of the Fish and Game playing host to district farmers, President Don Hayden says that the night will be repeated next fall.
